

We also gather together in small groups and house churches during the week.

We believe that we can experience and demonstrate what it means to follow Jesus better when we are committed to a smaller group where we can be honest and accountable.